

Rust Implementation Evidence

- 1) Below is the screenshot of running the GoLang application.

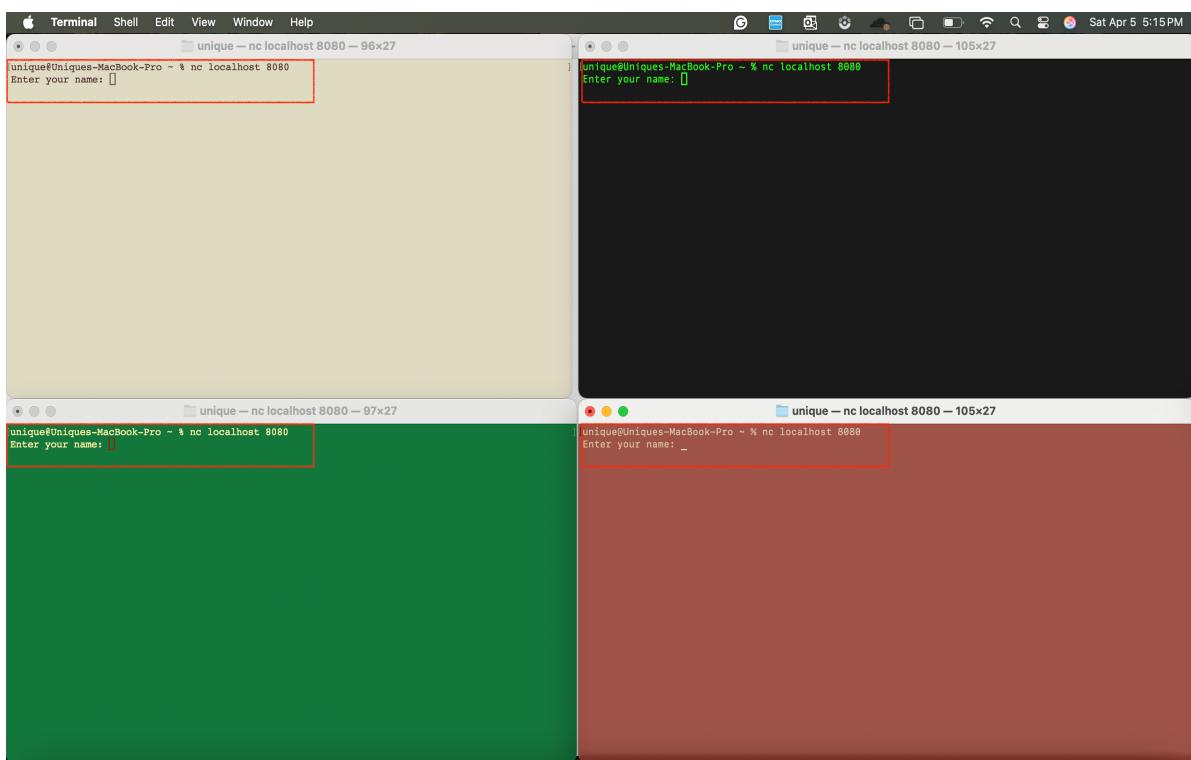

A screenshot of a Mac OS X Terminal window. The title bar reads "SimpleGoChatApp — main · go run main.go — 204x56". The window contains the following text:

unique@Uniques-MacBook-Pro SimpleGoChatApp % ls main.go
unique@Uniques-MacBook-Pro SimpleGoChatApp % pwd /Users/unique/Documents/UCumberlands/AdvancedProgrammingLanguages/GroupAssignment/MSCS632-Group4-SimpleChatApplication/SimpleGoChatApp unique@Uniques-MacBook-Pro SimpleGoChatApp % go run main.go Server is listening on port 8080...

The last line, "Server is listening on port 8080...", is highlighted with a red rectangular box.

- 2) After the application runs, it can be accessed through different terminals, each acting as a separate user.

Following is the screenshot, where we started four terminals to replicate four users.

3) Instantiated two users initially.

The image shows four terminal windows arranged in a 2x2 grid. Each window has a red box highlighting the user join messages. The top-left window shows Unique joining at 2025-04-05 17:17:17. The top-right window shows Chetan joining at 2025-04-05 17:17:21. The bottom-left window shows Unique joining again at 2025-04-05 17:17:21. The bottom-right window shows Chetan joining again at 2025-04-05 17:17:21.

unique@Uniques-MacBook-Pro ~ % nc localhost 8080

4) Instantiate two more users. Here, we can see what time the users joined the conversation.

The image shows four terminal windows arranged in a 2x2 grid. The top-left window shows Unique joining at 2025-04-05 17:17:17, Chetan joining at 2025-04-05 17:17:21, Tejeswar joining at 2025-04-05 17:18:18, and Sana joining at 2025-04-05 17:18:24. The top-right window shows Chetan joining again at 2025-04-05 17:17:21, Tejeswar joining again at 2025-04-05 17:18:18, and Sana joining again at 2025-04-05 17:18:24. The bottom-left window shows Unique joining again at 2025-04-05 17:18:18 and Sana joining again at 2025-04-05 17:18:24. The bottom-right window shows Sana joining again at 2025-04-05 17:18:24.

5) Start a conversation.

The image shows four terminal windows on a Mac OS X desktop. Each window has a title bar indicating it's connected to nc localhost 8080. The windows are arranged in a 2x2 grid. The top-left window shows Unique joining at 17:18:24. The top-right window shows Chetan joining at 17:18:24. The bottom-left window shows Tejeswar joining at 17:18:24. The bottom-right window shows Sana joining at 17:18:24. All users then greet each other with 'Hello ALL' or 'Hi Team'. A red box highlights the initial join messages and the first few greetings.

7) Search messages by keyword.

Search by keyword can be done by running the command: `/search <keyword>`

Note here that the user who searches for the keyword, only that user gets the response.

8) Search user and display the messages.
